Hidden Shoal Recordings » Markus Mehr 'Hubble'

Perth, Australia; Augsburg, Germany; 9th April 2010. The Australian music label Hidden Shoal Recordings today announced the release of the single 'Hubble' by German experimental ambient artist Markus Mehr.

The first track to be taken from the forthcoming album Lava, 'Hubble' roves glacially across compelling, hypnotic terrain. Atop a bedrock of fuzzy synths, glistening counter-melodies arc from the surface in all directions, tracing shards of light across the coal-black skies. The track evokes time spent transfixed, gazing through a giant looking glass, waiting wide-eyed as new discoveries are revealed in the music's textured contours.

Markus Mehr's musical journey began with the guitar. He grew up listening to bands like Black Sabbath and AC/DC, before turning his ears to darker sounds and the ethereal, experimental pop of David Sylvian. After recording and touring with several bands, he struck out on his own with home studio project Aroma.

Now working under his own name, Mehr wrote and recorded his upcoming debut album Lava at his home studio using guitars and synths, plus any noise-making accoutrements at hand – electric shavers, ventilators, electric tooth brushes and field recordings – all processed and distorted to create a gorgeous wall of sound, akin to the classic '70s Kosmische music of Klaus Schulze and Tangerine Dream, but also the contemporary masters of textured luminosity, Fennesz and Tim Hecker. Mehr's live plans for the European summer of 2010 include performances in churches, galleries and large disused gas tanks, as well as collaborations with visual artist Stefanie Sixt.

'Hubble' is available for free download from the Hidden Shoal Store until the release of the album Lava on the 15th of June.
